

PILOT PROJECT #002

GREENHOUSES IN GIVATT HAZAN

2 Greenhouses with computer and irrigation systems

LOCATION

Givatt Hazan is in the central region of Israel near Amazyta and Lacish, southwest of Jerusalem.

OVERVIEW

It is a community being built from the ground up by families which were forced from the Gaza four years ago. They have a comprehensive plan and a proven history of successful community building.

There are many with expert greenhouse management and research skills who are awaiting opportunity to again work in the greenhouse industry. The community will be welcoming new immigrant and helping them have employment within this industry.

PROGRAM

Two greenhouses growing cherry tomatoes and sweet red/green peppers would be built to augment greenhouses already in the area, supplying additional acres (dumins in Israel) needed. Although many greenhouses are needed, this pilot project would establish a template for building additional greenhouses and employment opportunities for immigrants.

COST $484,000 - 1 Greenhouse $242,000
